OVERVIEW

I am a very versatile and efficient Jr. Website applications Developer | Engineer with skills in React, Vanilla JavaScript, Express js, MongoDB. Before transitioning fully into the career path of a website applications developer I worked in IT where helped design, setup and manage networking infrastructure, I've also worked with startup companies in the past this has made me adventurous, reliable and also given me the opportunity to learn skills that I believe are valuable in any work environment I find myself. I enjoy working with teams because I believe they bring out the best in me.
